

COLOURS

General: Since antiquity, architecture has handed down to us solid, functional buildings of rare beauty. Over the years, brick has always been the main building material, forming the basis for the creation of structures: from majestic city walls to inspiring interior spaces. Innovation and technological development now make it possible to reproduce brick in porcelain stoneware, retaining its timeless charm and also offering a product that does not alter over time. Colours is such a material, - retaining its aesthetic qualities and strength, and remaining easy to clean.

Applications: Commercial & residential internal & external walls, including facades wall features, splash backs and alike.
